CUT/COPY ZONOSCOPE

Ladies and gentlemen please welcome back Cut Copy. Ever the gracious houseguests, they're returning armed with their 3rd and most ambitious work yet, Zonoscope. This is Cut Copy boiled down to their purest form: a suite of futuristic visions built upon primal rhythm tracks. It is at once their most immediate work to date but also their most sonically exquisite. Zonoscope was dreamt in the comedown of In Ghost Colours, the album which cemented Cut Copy as a global sensation. Their perpetual touring cycle found the band headline a stage at Lollapalooza, have fire marshals shut down an LA performance mid-set as crowds began to buckle the seams of the Henry Fonda Theatre and be raced to the Pitchfork Festival via police escort following a cancelled flight.

Frontman Dan Whitford describes the album: "All the way along we had this weird vision of a tropical, jungle, tribal sound. A place or an idea that we wanted to reach with some of the songwriting; to explore a looping hypnotic trance and revise the whole palette of what Cut Copy was about." Recorded over a 6 month and mixed in Atlanta by Ben H. Allen (Animal Collective, Gnarns Barkley, Deerhunter), Zonoscope paints a mesmerizing picture, conjured by a band at the height of their powers.

JUST IN TIME FOR THEIR TOUR WITH LADY GAGA...

SCISSOR SISTERS

“Scissor Sisters are one of the most improbable and endearing success stories of recent years.”

- Rolling Stone

Scissor Sisters, who has sold over seven million albums worldwide, recorded “Night Work” in London, the Bahamas and their hometown of New York City, working for the first time with an outside producer, Stuart Price (The Killers, Madonna). Night Work is a dynamic album with a big heart and some killer dance moves – but it’s not all electronic. You can still hear the sound of a band spinning out together in a rehearsal room. “Night Work is really us boiled down to who we are. It feels quintessentially us,” says Jake Shears, who handles vocals along with Ana Matronic. Babydaddy (guitarist/bassist/keyboardist) and Del Marquis (guitarist) complete the lineup and all four are founding members of the band.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

Wesley Pentz aka Diplo – one half of the production team behind the popular hybrid reggae project Major Lazer and MIA 'Paper Planes' lends his eclectic ear and considerable talents as a reggae selector to Riddimentary, a guided tour through 15 classic tracks from the Greensleeves reggae catalogue. The continuous blended mix covers twenty plus years of cutting edge, Jamaican and UK hits from the top producers in dub, reggae and dancehall from the 1980's & 90's. The retro flavor and historical context of these selections shines a light on Diplo's production influences and expert knowledge of the reggae genre. For new converts to reggae or collectors of crucial tracks from reggae's classic era, Riddimentary is rudimentary.

MARKETING OVERVIEW:

Six albums (one gold, three multi platinum); his biggest songs include Pony which reached #1 on the R & B charts, Differences (#4 on Hot 100 and #1 on R & B), In Those Jeans (#3 on R & B) and So Anxious (#2 on R & B.) The singer's accolades include multi BET and American Music Awards nominations and a 2000 Soul Train Award win for Best R&B/Soul Male album. He was one of R&B's pre-eminent love men and untitled King of R&B during the '90s heyday of hip-hop soul. That he's still topping the charts 14 years and six studio albums later is a testament to his musical legacy.

Our marketing initiative will focus on building awareness amongst press, retail, radio, tastemakers, online partners, and lifestyle outlets for in-store airplay.

PJ HARVEY

PJ Harvey's new album was recorded in a 19th Century church in Dorset, on a cliff-top overlooking the sea. It was created with a cast of musicians including such long-standing allies as Flood, John Parish, and Mick Harvey. It is the eighth PJ Harvey album, following 2007's acclaimed 'White Chalk', and the Harvey/Parish collaboration 'A Woman A Man Walked By'.

Such are the bare facts. But what is remarkable about 'Let England Shake' is bound up with its music, its abiding atmosphere - and in particular, its words. If Harvey's past work might seem to draw on direct emotional experience, this new album is rather different. Its songs centre on both her home country, and events further afield in which it has embroiled itself. The lyrics return, time and again, to the matter of war, the fate of the people who must do the fighting, and events separated by whole ages, from Afghanistan to Gallipoli. The album they make up is not a work of protest, nor of strait-laced social or political comment. It brims with the mystery and magnetism in which she excels. But her lyric-writing in particular has arrived at a new, breathtaking place, in which the human aspects of history are pushed to the foreground. Put simply, not many people make records like this.

Marketing Notes:

- Music videos have been made for each track on the album. They will be released periodically online throughout the album's campaign
- PJ will play a string of shows in Europe- Fly away contests will be set up in the US for major market European shows.
- An EPK will be launched prior to the albums release on PJ Harvey's web properties
- A Banner ad campaign promoting Let England Shake will be run on Stereogum, Hype Machine, Brooklyn Vegan, Gorilla Vs. Bear, and RCRD LBL
- Print ads will run in Filter, Fader, SUP and more
- The album will be serviced to a list of over 400 Film/TV music supervisors
- Advance copies of the album have been serviced to over 300 media outlets, both online and print
- PJ Harvey will be playing a string of shows throughout the US in major markets surrounding her confirmed Coachella appearance
- Let England Shake will be serviced to Non-Comm, College, and Specialty Radio formats around street date
